JUDGE SAYS HE EXPECTS TO FREE ONE MORE AND TRY THREE OTHERS

HOUSTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson said from the bench today that he "thought" he would dismiss a third defendant from the Hidalgo county election conspiracy trial by ordering an instructed verdict of not guilty and would submit the case of the three remaining defendants to the jury.

Two defendants, Edmund P. Williams and Cam Hill, already have been dismissed. If the court makes the action final Tom J. Buckow also will be released and the cases of Alan Cameron, William Chaddick and Sam Hargrove will go to the jury.

the cases of Alan Cameron, Willam Chaddick and Sam Hargrove will go to the jury.

Shortly after announcing his tentative decision as to Buckow. Cameron, Chaddick and Hargrove, the judge ordered a recess until 2 p. m. that he might consider the matter in chambers. He had heard two hours of argument of counsel concerning the defense motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty as to the four. Williams and Hill, who were finally exonerated, continued to sit with the others.

Prosecutor Fred Horowitz, special assistant to the United States attorney general, suggested the recess, saying he thought the court might desire to rid itself of the lawyers for a time.

The prosecutor had said he did not want to the case to go to the jury unless Judge Hutcheson believed a case had been made by the prosecution.

He added he would be willing for the jury to be charged, if it got the cases of Cameron, Chaddick and Hargrove, county judge and members, respectively, of the Hidalgo commissioners' court which threw out the Weslaco box, irrespective of the actual law concerning their action, and irrespective of the motive.

The jury was sent out while the motion was argued.

The six were indicted for alleged deprivation of suffrage of voters of the Weslaco box. The box was thrown out in the 1928 general election. Cameron was county judge and head of the commissioners' court which ordered the action; Chaddick and Hargrove were members of the court; Hill was county clerk; Buckow was election judge and Williams election clerk. All save Buckow and Williams were members of the A. Y. Baker Democratic administration, accused by the "Citizens' Republican" faction of attempting to perpetuate itself by throwing out the box which, it was claimed, would have resulted in the election of one or more anti-Baker men, if counted.

LADD MAIL FRAUD CASE WENT TO JURY WITH NO DEFENSE

FORT WORTH, Dec. 18.—(P)—The Edward M. Ladd mail fraud case went to the jury in federal court today without a word of defense testimony being introduced. The defendant himself did not take the stand.

The jury retired at 10:45 o'clock. Ladd, with five defendants who pleaded guilty when the trial started, was charged in connection with the promotion of an oil enterprise at Dallas. The evidence showed that for purposes of the promotion one of the defendants had assumed the name of Kenneth H. Liebhart, a Missouri business man who purportedly had come to Texas to assume charge of an oil venture in which he had lost $3,800.

Other investors in the previous unfortunate enterprise were alleged to have been induced to sink additional money in the scheme by the representatives of the fictitious "Liebhart" that he would conduct drilling operations in an effort to recover their money.

The defendants who pleaded guilty in the scheme are D. H. (Dinty) Moore, Mrs. Moore, Andrew Paul Sellers, Miss Alzana A. Carden and Miss Ruth Benton. Sentence has been deferred by Judge Wilson until December 31.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—(P)—
Numerous reports of death from alcohol poisoning has caused the industrial alcohol bureau of the treasury to take steps to determine the source of the beverage which it believes to be synthetic wood alcohol manufactured and sold without government supervision.

Commissioner Doran, in a letter to Senator Phipps, called attention to the reports, saying the mixtures sold as industrial solvent and anti-freeze solution was not "amenable to any federal statute."

"As to this latter material, namely, methanol, not now under government control, I believe there is presented a very serious problem and its seriousness lies in the fact of its wide sale and ready accessibility to the general public through thousands of garages and filling."

NO REGRETS.

As the tumult and shouting fades to a faint echo and the frenzied fans gather up the loose ends of their shattered nerves it is with considerable pride that we can look back over the hectic happenings of the past few weeks and in a cool and calm manner view the rec-ord of our high school football team with no regrets.

The Tigers made football history in Corsicana and each member of the squad as well as Head Coacl Johnnie Pierce and his able assistants, Ted Jeffries and O. P. Douglas, rightfully deserve every word of the sincere praise that is being paid them by an enthusiastic and loyal citizenship.

Of course to have annexed the Amarillo game would have made the season practically perfect but there is great satisfaction in the fact that it took a super team of to slow the Tigers down in their victorious march.

'What's in that package you are hiding away?"

Little Miss Janet stands guarding the door
And pounces on me every time I appear.
There's something those sharp eyes are searching me for.
There's something she's seeking this time of the year.
"What's in that bundle?" she asks with a shout.
I reply: "That a puzzle you'll never work out."

If they are I am doomed for the hottest of coals
And the cruelest spot in the realms of the lost;
For over and over when Janet has cried,
"Is that something for me?" I have brazenly lied.

Condemned I may be when my last day is done,
But how can a father escape such a fate?

cilic Northern from Big Spring to Lubbock, Amarillo and Vega, 333 miles in all.

E. H. Shaufler of Wichita, Kan, assistant to the general manager of the Panhandle and Santa Fe and former general manager of the Orient, revealed figures concerning the growth of motor truck and bus transportation. He said that to and from the Panhandle-Plains points on the Santa Fe, trucks last year carried an estimated 361,926 tons of freight. Bus travel to and from the same stations was 21,258 passengers a month, he estimated. Several of the bus estimates promably were too low, Shaufler admitted during cross-examination. The witness stated he believed to per cent or more of the less than carload freight traffic in this territory was handled by the 91 class A and the 119 class B trucks and estimated more than 50 per cent of the short passenger trips were made on the 22 husses. He stated the trucks and busses were just like the railroads were before they were controlled by the I. C. C. The trucks will set any rate to get business, he said.

Shaufler referred to the pick-up and store door delivery service instituted by the T. & P. to combat truck competition as an "expensive experiment."

DALHART, Dec. 18.—(P)—Mrs.
I. D. Devine, wife of the publisher of the Times at Texhoma, on the Texas-Oklahoma line near here, died today of injuries received last night when the newspaper plant was wrecked by an explosion.

Burdice Smith, of Hemphill, Texas, a printer who was working on the newspaper, was believed fatally injured. Devine was hurt, but not so seriously.

Officers who investigated the blast said doubtless it was caused by an accumulation of gas.

The building, recently completed at a cost of $8,000, was a complete loss. Windows in a nearby church were broken by the explosion.

The Devines had published the Texhoma newspaper six years, coming there from Guthrie, Okla.

Damage to the building and equipment was estimated at $18,-000. Battered bricks, broken tile and splintered timber caused some to express a belief the building had been bombed, but lack of motive detracted from that theory.

WORLD'S NEW SOVEREIGNTY RESTS IN CHRISTMAS BABE

Fresh Beginnings For Humanity In Sway of Bethlehem's Infant King - Societys' Only Real Prospect of Peace.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

It was in late January, a few years before the war, when my bilizzard-belated kelek, or goat skin raft, reached ancient Asshur, on the Tigris Aiver, the one-time capitol of Assyria. Still the dining table of the genial German archaeologists was adorned with a Christmas tree, in a land where no Christmas greens grow. There was something pathetic as well as beoutiful about that touch of the home and childhood memories, the little tree that was as a bridge stretching between the Tigris and the Rhine. During that visit I saw the steles and other moments of the oldest Assyrian moments of the oldest Assyrian moments of the oldest Assyrian moments of the loads who reigned thousands of years ago. Nevertheiess the wee, dried christmas in linearity in the steles and other moments of the loads who reigned thousands of years ago. Nevertheiess the wee, dried christmas that are no one are symbolized by all the far-flung preparations that are heining made for the keeping of Christmas at this present moment.—The child and the Christ who was Hinself once a child.

A Son As Success.

As of old the prophet exulted over the birth of a son, so our time is appraising with a new sense of value the child in our midst. All the superb educational equipment of the twentieth century, all the transforming legislative, and the child wing from the continuous control of the twentieth century, all the transforming legislative, and the child wing form all the control of the twentieth century, all the transforming legislative, and the child wing form all the control of the twentieth century. equipment of the twonton son tury, all the transforming legisla-tion for child-welfare, all the vast contributions of medicine and hy-giene to the health of childhood are born of the Christmas spirit. Modern economics and philosophy are beginning with the babe. One of the many messages that

One of the many messages that Christmas has for our over-wise time is that a son is a success. Mary is the world's greatest woman, because of her Son. Nowadays we ask that a man make money or get his name into "Who's Who" or figure in the newspapers, if his to be called a success. Whereas the truth, which is older than Christmas, is that whose has handed on the torch of life to the next generation, and whose name has been kept clean and bright as the flame, is a success of the first.

been kept clean and bright as the flame, is a success of the first and highest order.

Wherein is the world's hope of peace today? There is but one adequate ground for a peace that will last and rule mankind. That peace is according to the Christmas programme: "Peace on earth, among men of good will." Nothing but the new mind of good will which the Bethlehem Babe has brought can establish peace among men. can establish peace among men It is futile to look for it anywhese short of this.

When good will comes—and i short of this.

When good will comes—and it comes as fast as the real rule of Christ—there will be no more hymns of hate, no more sowing of jealousy by professional diplomacy; no more intrigue and double-dealing; no more terror in the hearts of the little peoples lest they be devoured; no more crushing weight of militarism upon the shoulders of the poor; no more secret and sinister designs upon a neighbor's rights and privileges. All the world will live forever in the sweetness of the Christmas spirit when Christ reigns and His good will is the law of life.

As It Affects Chicago.

There is a bridge in Austria with many niches. In cach is a representation of Christ. In one He is a sower; in another a shepherd; in a third, a fisher, and so on. Every man finds his own Christ and kneels before Him. But at least once a year the whole earth kneels before the Christ as a child. For a child appeals to the universal heart. The dear and near humanity of Jesus is most precious to mandkind as it is beheld in the person of the babe on Mary's bosom. Because the child is the center of Christmas and of the world's hope. Christmas is the day of all days when children the world's hope. Christmas is the day of all days when children reign.

The present influence of the revolutionizing Infant is vividly suggested by a Christmas convertation once reorted in the "Sunday School Times." A rural Illinois storekeeper is talking to a salesman in a Chicago wholesale house. "I came down State Street and seems to me I never saw it jammed so tight before. De artment stores, toy shops, candy stores, music stores—every one packed to a crush, and the whole street filled up besides. Trucks of mail order houses piled high up like loads of hay. # PROBLEMS FACING AGRICULTURE ARE SUBJECT MEETING

BANKERS, FARMERS AND COUNTY AGENTS DISCUSS SITUATION AND REMEDY

At a meeting of more than fifty bankers, farmers, county agents and others from district 9, com-posed of 20 counties in this area of Texas, held at the Navarro Hoposed of 20 counties in this area of Texas, held at the Navarro Hotel Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, problems of agriculture were discussed at length, the concensus of opinion seeming to be that the main thing desired for the bankers, knowing the individual persons and conditions, to aid in the putting over a program which will benefit the agricultural situation, with soil conservation, diversification, live-at-home, and the getting away from the one-crop idea.

The meeting was arranged through the efforts of G. W. Orm, district agent; Miss Jennie Camp, district home demonstration agent; and Frank Morris, key banker, Gainesville, and others.

Mr. Morris pointed out that the Texas Bankers Association agricultural committe had outlined a propram for the bankers to aid in the agricultural problems in their various sectors, and that for the first time in many years, gratifying results were being obtained.

rious sectors, and that for the first time in many years, gratifying results were being obtained. He recounted a number of instances and circumstances that had been brought to his attention. He said that the Texas Bankers association committee was trying to help all sections of the state.

Mr. Morris pointed out that the country bankers were getting away from one one-crop idea, and had come to the realization that a supplemental income must be providcome to the realization that a supplemental income must be provided for the farmer to become prosperous and self-sustaining.

Improve Farm Life.

Miss Camp stated that the farmers were being urged to provide better pastures, use adapted crops, livestonck, a balanced scale of farming, better seed, using low cost methods, make homes more comfortable and beautiful so that farm life will be a happy one, and the children remain on the farms mistead of going to the towns and cities

G. W. Orms, district agent, denied to the farmers and bankers that there is an "awful depression" on the farms, or that agriculture is going to the bad. He declared that the whole farming system was undergoing a change. He said that the machine age was lanker-farmer, Corsicana; Joe B. Fortson, banker-farmer, Corsicana; W. T.

He said that the machine age was causing unemployment at the present time but unemployment is not apparent in the farming sectors. "The merchants are the ones that unemployment is hurting," the speaker continued.

What Mr. Orms said was hurting the country was the purchase of automobiles, radios, frigidaire and other things on the installment plan. "Produce on the farm what we consume" he said, and everything would be all right, and on those farms where diversification and soil conservation have been practiced for years, there are no hard times now.

To Map Out Program.

He declared that where farms were being used only for the making of money, no money is being made. He said that the county agents would confer with the bankers of the various counties early next spiring for the mapping out of a program for 1931.

"Depression is a delusion," Mr. Orms said, "as the soil, air, etc. is here and from it must come our necessities," he continued.

He said that history showed that declining areas and nations follow declining soils. He pointed out that Germany, smaller than Texture.

Permanent Relief.

Chairman Morris said that the Chairman Morris said that the movement on foot was not for temporary relief, but for a permanent relitef. He said that each bank in this district would be asked to have five clients terrace land during the next year, and plant five acres in soil re-building products as an experiment to show the improvement which can be done in one year's time, and also to sponsor five 4-H pantry demonstrations.

one year's time, and also to sponsor five 4-H pantry demonstrations.

Dan Parker, Groesick banker, said that the general program as outlined was all right, but what each banke; must figure was on an undividual program to fit their clients and customers, pointing fut that what would work with one person, could not be carried out with another.

He said that a live-at-home proposition on a 5 to 10-year proposition was being worked out for reising what was needed, and then a surplus, if any, placed on the market. He said that the banker's in his area were insisting on cows, and that tomatoes would be planted next spring. He said that if the bankers would work with the county agents, take an interest in them are d their work, traching the people to take advantage of what they already have, they would be surprised in a short time at the improvement noted.

Progress Slow.

R. L. Harris, Blooming Grove, president of the Navarro county Bankers association, said that the improvement noted.

A Story of Two MILLION DOLLARS

WO million dollars is a lot of money. Suppose 1 you had to spend that much in just one summer. What a glorious time you could have! It's a pleasant thought, but let's find out how your gas company really did spend two million dollars last summer. It will interest you because you are going to receive most of the benefits.

This story is about the big annual task of getting ready for the enormous winter demand for gas. The work begins in the spring and lasts until

Without compressor stations it would be impossible to send gas through the pipe lines fast enough to supply everyone with gas during cold weather. So naturally one of the largest projects of the past summer's program was the erection of three new compressor sta-

This is a section of the new pipe line that was built west of Ranger this bast summer.

A huge new compressor station erected at Brad, 25 miles west of Mineral Wells, involved the building of a 20,000,000 - gallon lake, its water to be used in cooling the big compressor engines. Another compressor station was built at Joshua, 18 miles southeast of Fort Worth, and another was erected in the X-Ray field in Erath County. There were ficteen compressor engines installed in these three new compressor stations.

A gigantic 1250 horse power engine was added to the immense compressor station at Petrolia, making a total of 7,500 horse power at this one station. In all there are 27 compressor stations, to help send gas to you this winter when the thermometer goes down.

A view of the 20,000,000-gallon lake that was built to cool the compressor engines at Brad.

One of the unusual engineering feats accomplished during the summer was taking up and re-laying 80 miles of pipe, north of Petrolia, leading from the Oklahoma gas fields. This pipe was lifted out of the ditch, scraped free of dirt and corroded material, old joints replaced with new, treated with a protective covering, thoroughly tested, and re-laid in the ditch. This was done to further insure you a constant flow of gas this winter.

Many new miles of pipe line were added to the net work of the company's system, which now contain 3700 miles of main pipe line.

Work is now under way on the construction of a suspension bridge to carry a pipe line from Oklahoma over the Red River. The two main towers of this bridge are 103 feet high, and it will have a total length, from anchor to anchor, of 1760 feet. Its completion will eliminate the last hazardous river crossing on the Lone Star system.

But, of course, all of this mechanical equipment would be of no avail without a plentiful supply of natural gas. So during this year, 65 wells were drilled to add to the more than 1,000 wells the Lone Star Gas Company already operates in 31 fields.

Now with all of this marvelous equipment and bountiful supply of gas, someone must see that you receive the fullest benefit from both. The gas dispatcher is that man. When a "blue norther" swoops down with breath-taking suddenness, he is the one who sees to it that you have a constant flow of gas. At his command is a small army of telephone operators, compressor station attendants, field men, truck drivers, repair men-all coordinated through 1,200 miles of private telephone wires, that vibrate with rapid-fire orders.

> In this mammoth two million-dollar summer construction program of the Lone Star Gas Company, hundreds of men were given employment and hundreds of thousands of dollars paid them in wages.

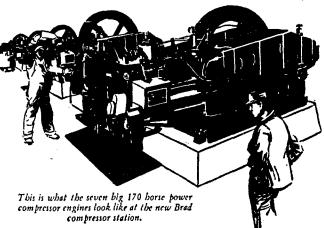

During the 22 years that the Lone Star Gas Company has been serving the Southwest, it has expended millions of dollars yearly for improving its service to you. Today its investment totals one hundred million dollars!

The sum. mer's activities just described are by no means unusual. Every summer new

A few of the 65 new gas wells that were added this year to the more than 1,000 already operated by Lone Star.

equipment must be purchased and new improvements built. And it was only through this foresighted policy of the Lone Star Gas Company that it was able to keep a constant flow of gas coming to you through the unexpected bitter cold of last winter when the thermometer went down below,

There is one thought that is always upper-most in the minds of every member of the vast Lone Star organization. It is, "the gas must be there" -wherever and whenever it is required by you.

Senate Has Public Works Bill

Before the senate today also was the report of its conference

Before the senate today also was the report of its conference committee on the $116,000,000 public works hill, recommending abandonment of amendments to restrict the president's discretion in spending the money, control the wages to be paid on its projects and make special provisions for some states.

Senator Jones, republican, Washington, head of the conferees, sought votes on rejection of each of these proposals. Senators Dill of Washington and McKellar of Tennessee, both democrats, wanted the senate to insist upon them. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who had restriction on the president inserted, refused to fight its removal. In the interest of getting the legislation passed as quickly as possible.

Christmas recess plans were torn up after Representative Garner of Texas, democratic leader, charged the republican leaders with filibustering to prevent action on drought relief until after Christmas recess.

SHEPARD TESTIFIES WIFE HAD TOLD HIM DID NOT LOVE HIM

ARMY OFFICER CHARGED WITH MURDER UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17.—(A)—Major Charles A. Shepard testified on cross-examination today at his trial for the alleged poison murder of his wife that Mrs. Thepard had ceased to love him and that his purported statement to the contrary made to federal agents at Denver last spring was an inaccuracy.

The prosecution, which charges Shepard poisoned Mrs. Zenana Shepard so he might be free to marry Miss Grace Brandon, a young stenographer, continued its efforts this morning to show discrepancies between the statement and his testimony.

nd his testimony, Shepard testified that he realized at the time there were inac-curacies in the statement taken at Denver but reinterated he con-sidered the matter none of the

Mr. Q. writes: Will you please discuss sometime, Infection—the cause of a nervous break.

Answer: An infection could never be the primary cause of a nervous break but might easily be the precipitating cause. A nervous break must be recognized as a disturbance in the psyche—the personality: while an infection of disturbs the physical structures such as blood and glands and brain cells.

For example, in the infection of typhoid fever the patient may be delirious when the disease is at it's height because his brain cells, for the time, are poisoned by the typhoid toxin, and cannot furnish straight thinking. But he wakes from the delirium to find his personality intact, although his physical strength is at low ebb.

In fact, an actual physical trouble such as an infection, or surgical operation, or broken bone is apt to reunite the warring parts of the personality and cause them to join forces with the body in winning the way back to health. On the other hand, the period of late convalescence with its chance for self centering is often taken advantage of to renew the psychic conflict and plunge the personality into the state of guerrilla warfare that manifests itself as a nervous break or failure to carry on.

Fred Hightower's Passing
After being queried by a number of the local fans concerning the remarkable and sensational manner that Fred Hightower, substitute quarterback of the Tigers, handled the forward passing attack in the semi-final combat against the Amarillo Sandies here last Saturday, the writer has checked the play-by-piay report carefully and finds that Hightower passed on twenty-four occasions, completing fifteen for a total yardage gain of 233 yards, three flips being intercepted and six incomplete. Fans, that is some kind of a record for chunking the pigsel, let us remind you, and was self-in the best of condition—but the site is truly a historic one—where all of the base-ball of the past 30-odd years has been staged; where players like 11m Maloney, Nije Clarke, Tris Speaker, Rogers Hornsby, Mike O'Conner, Lucky Wright, Joe Canada Jolley, Goober Hollis, Bill Etheridge, Reynolds, Shires, Gernandt, Shores, Andrews, Love-lup, Fred Marberry, Tony DeMaggio, Possum Moore and hundreds of Texas association, Texas-Oklahoma league, East Texas league, Lone Star league, Texas league, Italian and the seminated by The I. While the State Home held their opponents scoreless in the second and third quarters, a combination 20 yard pass from Knott and a 20 yard pass from Knott and a 20 yard sprint on the part of Mitchell, who was on the receiving end of the flying plgskin, netted the Lads their only score of the game carly in the third quarter. The extra point was missed.

The winners made 10 first downs to their adversaries' eight.

His interest is not confined to basketball alone, being a football, track and baseball fan, but his preference is that of the painted court—the cage game—a truly fascinating and spectacular game, especially the basketball game, between two evenly matched and well-coach boys clubs. Different rules are observed in the playing of basketball for girls and boys—the lads ranging all over the court while the lasses are restricted—guards in one sector—centers in another—and forwards in another. The girls game is not nearly so strenuous as that for the boys.

a spectator at a football game and wondered "how many more minutes are to be played before the quarter is ended?" Of course you have. It seems that the you have. It seems that the itimekeeper is the only person who has access to this information, at least, it is so as far as the spectators are concerned. Spectators pay for everything pertaining to the game. Why not show them some consideration. Daseball does. You no longer have to wonder what inning it is or how many are out or how many balls and strikes the batter has against him. It's there before you. Why not? That is what you are paying for. In fact neither game would function without spectators.

Therefore, it is suggested that those responsible—will have a disc made out of—let us say—shect iron with the numbers from 1 to 15 inclusive printed on it—1 to be so fixed that the timekeeper er could manipulate them and referent the fixed of the disc the time thereon the face of the disc showing the spectators.
